TERMS OF THE DAILY DEMOCRAT TO THE COUNTRY.

To our Country Patrons.

Please to register your letters containing re mittances, as we hold ourselves responsible for all losses to us when letters are registered. We are not responsible for losses in the mails, should they occur, unless letters are registered.

The constitutional amendment has passed Congress after a fashion, not by a two hirds vote of that body, but by two-thirds of the members elected. The dominant party deem it all right, and that the work is done. Three-fourths of the States are to ratify it, of ourse. It is provided that Congress shall ave power to enforce this new article to be put late the Constitution by appropriate legslation. This places all State laws respecting colored people under the control of Congress. ill this is only the beginning of progress. The negro now must vote, hold office, give testimony in court, be in all respects equal to a white man. He is, in fact, to be better, nasmuch as he is to be under the special care of Congress, and not subject to State laws or constitutions, as white men are. Social quality, as well as political, is more than

It is obvious, then, that the agitation of slavery is not done with. There remains. as we have said, the question of race, nore unmanagable than the question of lavery itself. The present progress is not going to step with the nominal emancipation of slaves. Summer's introduction of a negro ttorney to the bar of the Supreme Court is an lustration of what is coming. There are the eeds here of numerous insurrections and soisl rebellions. Now, we can only say, if the Abolitionists re right, then these advance movements are ight. They are logical necessities of their oremises. If the negro be a self sustaining ace, able to do better for themselves than they cap do in a state of servitude, then they ought to be free; not only free, they ought also to be placed where they will have all the ncentives of free men. They must not be chained down by political disabilities.

The status of the negro in the South is deended on the ground that the race is not selfenstaining; on the same ground that disabiliies are imposed on minors until they come to gears of discretion. The assumption is that the regro is an infantile race, incapable of the duties and responsibilities of free men; that their condition of subordination to the white race is the best for them, as well as for the white race. If this be true, there is no wrong in the slavery of this race. The arrangement is the best that could be made. The evils ennected with the system can be remedied without destroying what is the growth of ages and modified by time.

If this view of the race be an error, and the Abolitionists are right, then emancipation is a Abolitionists are right, then emancipation is a duty, regardless of expense; but, then, if the Abolitionists are correct, it will not do to stop at mere emancipation. If the race are capable of freedom, they are entitled to the same rights as other people. I; is impossible to justify general emancipation and stop there, leaving the negro as he is in the free States, leaving the negro as he is in the free States, generally with no rights that the white man is ound to respect. The radicals are consistent in their wrong-headedness, and entitled to respect for that. They go whither their theory leads. As they run no hezards themselves, ces nothing if their theory proves absurd in practice, we need not expect them to be cautious. If wrong, the evil consequences fall on ther people. These Abolitionists, however, should not allow some of their representatives to behave as they do. They undertake to raise up and ake care of these freemen. That is all inconsistent and absurd. A free people can take care of themselves. They must not be treated as children, as slaves in fact. Turn the white race loose and they will take care of themselves. They want no nursing and supervisieg. That would make them slaves. If you take care of a man, he must serve you and obey our directions. That is a natural law that Congress can't repeal. The negroes under Government control on plantations down South are not free. The system of slavery is only changed, and changed for the worse. Why should the white man be taxed and oppressed to take care of a people fit to be free? Why should white rogues be enabled to cheat these American citizens of African descent, by making bargains for them, taking the proceeds of their labor and pecketing it? If the Aboli ion theory is true, set the negro free-let him shift for himself as white men do. There is no harm in throwing young cucks in the water, although we would not treat young chickens that way, for they can't swim. In this sea of competition with this white race the negro, in our opinion, will perish; he can's swim. The Indian has kept out of it by instinct; but he is washed away by the tides that followed him in his retreat. He struggles hard and gets killed for his resistance. The negro will perish an easier victim to the progress of this ambitious, restless white man. The Abolitionists, however, don't believe it. They are filled with admiration of Sambo, and expect to make something wonderful out of him. Nothing but the experiment will satisfy them. They feel a lofty and virtuous scorn for the advocate of the system of slavery, on the ground of humanity. They will make attorneys, judger, electors, Congressmen, &c., out of the negro race. If their theory be correct, they are right in all this, and they will hammer away at it with as much zeal and furor as they have atsailed the system of slavery. If they are right, then the free States must be vastly reformed. They have treated the negro upon the same principle as the South, although not the same way. The more rapidly the experiment goes on, the sooner it will be through with-the sooner the absurdity will be manifest. Those familiar with the negro race from history or 5. J. H. GARRARD.

The faithful may now make their calculations to advance. When this trouble com-menced, he was loyal who refused to countenance secession, who stood firmly by the Union of the States, and insisted on the Federal authority over all the States. State Constitutions and State ins itutions were not to be disturbed. After awhile objection to anything he Government did rendered a man sus-

The Administration and its party shifted about. The emancipation of the negro and confiscation bills became tests of loyalty. Then the negro must be armed as a soldier, and objections to that were positively disloyal. At present, we have another test still in advance. He that opposes this constitutional amendment abolishing slavery everywhere is vance. He that opposes this constitutional amendment abolishing slavery everywhere is disloyal. This test will not long remain. The brethren must go on to perfection.

The equality of the negro as a citizen is to be recognized and enforced. No distinctions of color, political or social, can be allowed. The state of the political or social, can be allowed. The state of the political or social, can be allowed. The state of the political or social, can be allowed. The state of the political or social, can be allowed. The state of the political or social, can be allowed.

The preference for the white blood will be a proof of disloyalty, and the white man in the States must be prohibited from imposing any lisabilities upon the colored race. This is progress. We are already more than half way to the end of the theory and practice, been a test of loyalty, and any hesitation is ground of suspicion. [From the Chicago Journal.] DECEASED REBEL PRISONERS.

At a very fashionable Hebrew wedding in Hartford recently the bride was dressed in an elegant and expensive lilac colored moire antique dress, richly trimmed. On her head she wore a coronet of green leaves and orange flowers, falling from which was a white lace veil of delicate texture, enveloping her whole figure. One of the bridesmaids was also dressed in a very rich silver gray moire antique dress. The occasion was of much interest.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE .- The Worcester Palladium says George L. Mowry, of Smithfield, R.I., who was convicted of highway robbery at the late term of the Supreme Court in that city, attempted to kill himself in jail at an early hour Monday morning. By some means he got a small fragment of glass, with which he cut a vein in his arm, from which blood flowed freely until he fainted away. We are informed that the report of the left wing was, on Monday, 17 mlies south of Branchville and within 50 miles of Columbia, the capital, while his right was in front of the city of Charleston, only two miles distant, and threatening it. On the next day, Tuesday list, it was indicated by the Richmond papers that his cavalry had reached the Northeastern railroad, and that severed the last remaining little between Charleston and the rebel cupital. His troops were believed to be also in the vicinity of Florenes.

This is the point of convergence of the railroads communicating between Georgia, South Carolina and Virginia, and in which towns were recently co-fined large numbers of captured Union soldiers. Rebel papers admit that there was nothing to stop Sherman's army, and expect that the national flug will soon be finating over Charleston, Augusts, Columbia, and Raleigh.

Additional details of the movements toward Wilmington last Saturday show that the troops engaged were exclusively those of General Terry's command, but the operations were directed in person by his superior officer, Gen. Schofield. They were most successful, and what at first appeared to be only a recommoissance in force terminated in a permanent advance.

the new ground was held, and works were immediately thrown up on it almost as strong as those in front, to which the rebels feil back. The Union casualties during to day are only about ten killed and fifty wounded.

The Henald's Washington special says our Consul at London has informed the Government of the salling from Kingston, Ireland, of the steamer Ajox, which, it is not doubted, is intended for a rebel privateer. Her armament had gone or would go out in a sailing vessel. Notwithstanding the fact that she is small, it is helieved she will be able to do much damage to American she paper, if she gets started in her meditated career. It is thought she would go to Nassau to take on board her guns.

The closing of the port of Wilmington has been a sad blow to Nassau. All is stegnation there. According to the Herald's correspondent, on the 31, there were in port over thirty steamers and one hundred salling vessels rocently engaged in the contraband trade. The warchouses are filled with goods.

"How HE Got In "-There's a prisoner! the guardhouse at Barracks No. 1, who was incarcerated, we believe, for disloyalty. His name is Hughes, and he had a nephew named Reid Hughes. Reid wanted to see his uncle, and yesterday he stepped into the Provost Marshal's office and demanded a pass to go and see his uncle.

"Are you a loyal man?" "I'm not a man." What are you then?"

"I'm a boy."

"Are you a loyal boy?" "Well, none to burt, I ain't."

This was enough for the Provest Marshall who had Reid put in the guardhouse without a pass, where he is expected to remain with his uncle until he becomes loyal.

Vouchers - The following vouchers are now ready for delivery at the office of the Provost Marshal: B. B. Mason, James W. Brannon, R. H. Waggoner, E. M. Quigley, Richard Calloway, Wm. Death of Col. James S. Wallace.

It becomes our painful duty this morning to announce the death of Col. James 8, Wallace, which sad event occurred at ten minutes past 1 o'clock this morning. He had been sick for some time with paralysis of the brain. For a number of years Col. Wallace was onnected with the press of Boston, New York and Philadelphia; but for the last six or seven years he had been connected with the Journal in this city.

The Colonel was a writer of ability and his death will be a sad loss to the fraternity. He was a man of an amicable and gentle disposition, kind hearted, and by his courous and gentlemanly bearing had made hosts of friends who will mourn his death.

MESSRS. HART & Co, NEW YORK .- We direct the attention of our readers to the card of Messrs. Hart & Co., manufacturers of clothing, at Nos. 70 and 72 Leonard street, New York city. Letter from Nashville.

[Correspondence of the Louisville Democrat.] NASHVILLE, Feb. 15, 1865. There is nothing of moment transpiring in military circles at this time. The recent army much speculation as to the objects of General Thomas, but as yet they are enveloped in mystery, and there is no prospect of an immediate revelation. Until the objective point of Sherman-after his rampage in South Carolina-is known, we expect inactivity in this quarter. If Dick Taylor and Forrest, however, should conclude to take the offensive word was from the heart; in truth and in fact, 'tis and "move on any of our works," General drama in human life with her. Mr. J. W. Al- Thomas will be necessarily drawn out to drive him back. The movement of General A. J. Smith's command down the Mississippi river would indicate that no extensive operations are anticipated in this State. However, this move of Gen. Smith may be simply to "eilr up" the remnant of Hood's army, in order to give Thomas an opportunity to demolish what remains of it. At last accounts they were sungly ensconced in winter quarters at Tupele; but it is not reasonable to suppose that they will remain inactive any length of ime in the present desperate condition of the Confederacy. Taylor and Forrest are bold commanders, and they may undertake a desperate move on some place liable to sur-prise, if for nothing more than retrieving their fortunes in the prestige of the slightest SUICIDES.

SUICIDES.

As nations are prone to commit enicide, it is not strange that individua's should occasionally follow such an illustrious example. We are told by the byographers of the great Nanoleon that he once seriously contemplated a "Roman death" in preference to exile on the lonely rock of St. Helena. The similarity between this ungodiy city and La Belle France is well calculated to inculcate a "Parisian turn of mind," which takes him by the forelock and "shuffl soff this mortal coil" independent of opidemics and wars. Vice and virtue are closely ailled here. A failure in army speculation is irretrievable ruin, and generally proves falal to the victim, who at once commits himself to the cubrace of a "Roman death" or some rich war widow. Domestic troubles, how ver, are generally disposed of quietly in this section. In most cases Indiana lurnishes the balm of gliead, and a divorce plaster heals the wounded hearts. The very atmosphere of Nashville is pregnant with vice, and virtue succumbs to the ruling passion. I am let to the above remarks by the lamentable suicide of Llent. T. C. Call, brief mention of which was made in the papers of this city gesterday. An unfaithful wife drove him to dissipation, and finally to commit the deed which has buried his humiliation. He was, but a short time ego, highly esteemed, and has served his country with honor during the war. This is the second suicide committed here within cone month by officers of the United States ermy.

THE COTTON MANIA-INTERESTING DEVELOP-MENTS.

The telegraph informed us a few days ago that the Committee on Committee are holding daily sessions for the purpose of investigating the cotton question, and they are developing some rich transactions connected with the cotton trade. As thomsands of these patriots have smassed fortunes in this trade, we hope that a full exposition will be made. In connection with the above a few hints regarding cotton operations it this quarter may be in cruer. From what I can learn, there are upwards of two hundred persons purchasing at points beyond Huntsville with permits issued in this city, and others are reported purchas water of two nutures persons purchasing and in this city, and others are reported purchasing without any permits. From this statement it would be naturally supposed that immense quantities of cotton were brought to this city, yet such is not the case. I am informed by one who "knows whereof he speaks," that less than two hundred bales have found their way to this market during the pest three months. It is not owing to any scarcity of the article, for upwards of an hundred thousand bales have been purchased by these speculators, and are now lying in the enemy's lines awaiting—not transportation—but congressional or executive legislation removing the Government per centage or tax. This cotton has been lying there for months, the owners cherishing the

The cotton purchased by parties having no permits is liable to confiscation; and in fact there is little doubt but that all this cotton lying in the enemy's lines callor; and in fact there is little doubt but that ail this cotton lying in the enemy's lines is liable, as the purchasers have not conformed with the Government regulations, and they are thereby depriving others who would act in good faith. Some of those who hold permils to bring in five and ten thousand bales have not purchased five hundred, and did no expect to purchase more than a few hundre ales when they obtained their permits. those who are ambitious to embark in the cotton trade, I would state that they will "strike cotton" about ten miles beyond Buntsville, and as they proceed they will disurchasers to bring in their cotton. BUSINESS. From all oppearances there is a very lively business transacted here and every building is the city is occupied. It is expected that the trictions on trade will soon be loved. Active prepara ions are being mader an extensive business next spring.

The different places of amusement are cowded nightly, and as an evidence of the troward nightly, and as an evidence of the free and casy manner in which money is cir-culated, the late fair for the benefit of the orphans cleared the snug little sum of $12,000 and only operated eight days. This speaks well for Nashville and is highly creditable to the ladies managing it.

The County Bounty.

Mr. Henry F. Vail: I have read your a ticle in the Democrat of yesterday. When I find that there is a law in existence empowering the County Levy Court to impose and collect a tax for a bounty fund will call the members together, and they an consult as to the expediency of doing so As to the separation of the county from the city for the purposes of the draft, I do not know of any power in the Eurolling Board to do it. As well might they carve out Middle-town, the Sixth ward, or the Lower Ponds precinct.

You complain of your stomach, unfortunate dyspep ic; but ought not your stomach to complain of you Possibly the pangs you endure are simply the stomach' nethod of taking revenge upon you for neglecting and busing it. Perhaps you have never made an effort t mprove its condition, but on the other hand are continnally cramming it with unwholesome an t incongruou food. Have you ever tried HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a proper diet and regular meals? The Bit ters in a week would put your digestive apparatus in erfect order, regulate the flow of life in accordance tient action as would be necessary for your good; and when you were once all right, judicious and regular ieting, with a little of the Tonic now and then, would keep you so. If you have neglected these means of cure don't blame your stomach for its rebellion. It is merely nature's hint that she wants help. If you neglect it he next thing may be Inflammation or Scirrhus Can er, or some other violent and dangerous diseas There is such a thing as being too late in these matte HOSTETTER'S BITTERS will cure Dyspepia; but Dyspepals may engender diseases which defy all restoratives.

The Enquirer says while the blockade is effective against England and France, is it open to the Yankee? and says the effect of trading, permits would at points in our possession enable us to do all the trading to the exclusion of foreign nations. At the stock exchange the railroad list was dull and lower, except in Fort Wayne, which was higher and quite active: Gold steady with a fair demand. Miscellancous steady. Sherman's army entered this State with threats, openly and defiartly made, of the vengance which should mark his march. South Carolinians are not to be intimidated by the minions of brutes, and we are mistaken if South Carolina has forgotten how to treat the insolence of such men.

The Tribune has the following extracts from the Richmond Examiner of the 15th:

According to official advices last received from the War Department Sherman was moving on the upper branches of the Edisto, evidently with the intention of fluking Branchville and striking the railroad at Columbia north of its junction with the South Carolina railroad,

lina railroad,

It is concluded that Beauregard has fallen back from Branchville to take up a new line to cover Columbia, and one better calculated for defensive purposes. The opinion in official quarters is, that a battle is imminent. Beauregard will fight it on ground of his own selection, and with an adequate force. The eneral situation is encouraging for us.

It was currently reported here yesterday hat a column of the enemy was moving on lugusta. The War Department has no con-irmation.

The Enquirer says the continued absence of official news from the South leaves open the field for any extent of rumord conjecture nu.

Now that it is well known that Sherman is actively initiating a campaign, his movements for Branchville, and teints upon Augusta and Columbia, and his demonstration in force on James Island below Charleston, form a basis for some very entertaining military criticisms and anticipations.

That Branchville and Charleston are the esigns of Sherman, there can be little doubt, pears by no means imminent.

Rumor says Branchville is evacuated and the enemy, having crossed the Edisto twenty miles above that place, are marching upon Charleston. There is no official confirmation of this. The Tribune's army of the James special The Tribune's army of the James special mentions a statement of descriers that the rebels have new ram named Jeff. Davis nearly completed. Descriers say the rams will soon make another raid down the river.

The order for the execution of the rebel pirate, Capt. Bea', which was to be carried into effect to morrow, has been respited for the present and now lies catirely in the hands of the President.
